

Join the Citizen Jury

In 2025, Citizen Jurors came together in support of student scholarship in history and civics from 20+ states and three countries - as lawyers, teachers, professors, historians, presidential history buffs, authors, college students, museum professionals, and more.

You can be part of the fourth annual Project POTUS in 2026!

Sign up to be a Citizen Juror
using this QR code.

Project POTUS is a national education initiative for middle and high school from the Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site.

PROJECT POTUS HQ NEEDS YOUR HELP

Volunteer to review 60-90 second video projects about the American presidents from middle school or high school students all over the U.S as part of the Project POTUS contest in Spring 2026.

The Citizen Juror's Role:

- Estimated Time Commitment: 2 hours or less
- Online only role; Micro volunteer opportunity
- Jurors will be assigned 'caseload' of up to 30 (60-second or 90 second) videos to review
- Judging will take place online over the course of 2 weeks in March 2026, and is asynchronous - jurors can self-select a preferred time to review the assigned caseload within the open judging window
- Option to review an additional caseload for those interested
- Citizen Juror instructions, the Project POTUS submission scorecard, and the official calendar for judging will be sent to jurors in December 2025.

Contact Project POTUS HQ for more info:

Send a note to Molly Beausir, Russell and Penny Fortune Project POTUS Presidential Fellow, at projectpotus@bhpsite.org.